The April COMMA event was well-attended, as was the March event. We are off to a great season thanks to all of you fun-loving drivers.

The excitement level was at the top of the meter during the start of the GT feature Sunday, as Dennis Gatlin's very fast GT2 car decided to blow its turbo engine at the start. A spectacular, but fortunately short, fire resulted. It was scary for a few seconds; Dennis bailed out safely and the fire pretty much put itself out. After a single lap restart, Jeff Gaddy hit some leftover oil from the GT2 incident and hung up his beautiful Porsche on the curb with some damage to the front spoiler and air ducts.

Speaking of Jeff, at his request we emailed you Ron Forristall's situation last week and included his home address for get well cards. Ron will be at MD Anderson for a while, so we are including that address here: 2260 West Holcombe Blvd., Houston, TX 77030. He starts chemotherapy today, and he will keep us advised as the "laps go by."

Some visitors from Arkansas may join us for the May round. Ron Pawley, one of our COMMA competitors, will be on a rally with a group of new Scions, built by Toyota and sold out of Ron Pawley Toyota of Fort Smith. This group will probably do the ride-around, drive-around Sunday and a couple sessions of HST. Depending on the number of HST participants on Sunday, we may need to add a separate group for the Scions, so the afternoon could run a bit longer than usual.
